REPORT OF	Lord Mayor Councillor Pierre Esber

CSP THEME: THRIVINGWORKSHOP/BRIEFING DATE: NilPURPOSE:

The purpose of this Lord Mayoral Minute is to acknowledge that the Parramatta Aquatic Centre won Outstanding Sports and Recreation Facility at the Western Sydney Leadership Dialogue's Boomtown! 2023 Property and Infrastructure Awards on 16 November 2023.

RECOMMENDATION:

- (a) That Council note that Parramatta Aquatic Centre, the City of Parramatta's new swimming, wellness and fitness hub, won Outstanding Sports and Recreation Facility at the Western Sydney Leadership Dialogue's Boomtown! 2023 Property and Infrastructure Awards; and
- (b) That Council congratulate all current and former Councillors, staff and project partners who have contributed to delivering the Parramatta Aquatic Centre.

BACKGROUND

1. The Western Sydney Leadership Dialogue's Boomtown! Annual Property and Infrastructure Awards recognise outstanding new community projects across Western Sydney. The awards showcase excellence across categories including infrastructure, sustainability, and tourism.
2. Judging for the Awards was undertaken by Dialogue Patrons, Kerry Schott AO, Mike Mrdak AO, Prof. Peter Shergold AC, Lucy Hughes Turnbull AO, Cameron Clyne and Dialogue Chairman Christopher Brown AM.
3. At an awards ceremony on 16 November 2023, the judges awarded the Parramatta Aquatic Centre (PAC), the City of Parramatta's new $88.6 million swimming, wellness and fitness hub, with Outstanding Sports and Recreation Facility. The judges singled out PAC's eye-catching design, environmental features, and state-of-the-art community facilities, setting a new benchmark for a public recreation building.
4. The Award recognises the many years of hard work to deliver this landmark centre to our rapidly growing region. Designed by Andrew Burges Architects, McGregor Coxall and Grimshaw, the PAC provides a recreational, civic and community hub for the City focused around and celebrating the pleasures of swimming in a parkland setting. The project, which was jointly funded by the City of Parramatta and the NSW Government, provides learn-to-swim and children's play areas, indoor and outdoor pools, a large-scale wellness and recreation centre and multi-purpose community and function rooms.

5. PAC encapsulates what is unique about our city and inspires us to truly celebrate the elements that make Parramatta such a special place. Already over 80,000 people have visited PAC and more than 2,000 have registered for the learn-to-swim program since it opened in September.
6. PAC is the result of years of hard work, tenacity and commitment. Council congratulates those who have worked for years to achieve this vision, including former and current elected Councillors, staff, the NSW Government and project partners who've contributed in varying ways to deliver this bold vision.

REFERENCE	F2022/03176 - D09220681
REPORT OF	Lord Mayor Councillor Pierre Esber

CSP THEME: Thriving

WORKSHOP/BRIEFING DATE: 15 November 2023

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this Lord Mayoral Minute is to table a letter from the NSW Minister for Planning and Public Spaces regarding the need to allow for more housing in low and medium density zones across NSW.

RECOMMENDATION:

- (a) That Council note the receipt of a letter dated 30 October 2023 from the NSW Minister for Planning and Public Spaces, The Hon. Paul Scully MP regarding the need to allow for more housing in low and medium density zones across NSW (Attachment A); and
- (b) That the Lord Mayor write to the Minister for Planning and Public Spaces to:
 - i) acknowledge receipt of the letter and the NSW Government's commitment to increase the supply and diversity of homes across NSW;
 - ii) acknowledge that a strategy for increasing the mix of housing with a focus on medium density housing is an existing action in Council's adopted Local Strategic Planning Statement and Local Housing Strategy;
 - iii) Council will agree to bring this action forward subject to the State Government:
 - a. committing to critical infrastructure projects that will unlock this capacity in particular a construction timetable detailing completion of Parramatta Light Rail Stage 2; and
 - b. providing funding for the studies and necessary community consultation required to progress this action.

BACKGROUND

1. On 30 October 2023 the NSW Minister for Planning and Public Spaces, the Hon Paul Scully MP, wrote to the City of Parramatta (Attachment A) regarding the need to allow for more housing in low and medium density zones across NSW. In summary, this letter states that:
 - As part of the National Housing Accord, the NSW Government is committed to commence the construction of 377,000 new homes by 2029;
 - There are still opportunities available for the planning system to prioritise low and mid-rise housing types in NSW's main residential zones;

- There is a 'limitation' in 33 out of 35 Greater Sydney Local Environmental Plans (LEPs) that prevents terraces, townhouses, and residential flat buildings (i.e. manor houses) from being built in R2 Low Density Residential Zones;
 - There is a 'limitation' in 53% of Greater Sydney LEPs that prevents residential flat buildings (i.e. apartments) from being built in R3 Medium Density Residential Zones;
 - All councils are called to immediately review their local policy settings and approaches to identify existing well-located areas where terraces, small unit blocks or well-designed mid-rise apartments can be permitted; and
 - The letter be tabled at the next Council meeting so that councillors are clear about the NSW Government's intentions.
2. The City of Parramatta's adopted Local Strategic Planning Statement (section 3.2.1) and Local Housing Strategy contain actions to encourage a more diverse range of housing, including medium density housing. This includes committing Council to identifying suitable areas for medium density housing. For Council to bring forward this work, additional resourcing and funding would be required for studies and planning.
 3. Given the strong housing growth we will continue to experience in the LGA, Council needs to ensure that this is matched with infrastructure provision. Infrastructure considerations are a key element in the planning processes the City of Parramatta undertakes, and further, Council is working with the NSW Government to ensure key infrastructure improvements are made to service this growth into the future, including the new Sydney Metro West and Parramatta Light Rail Stage 2.
 4. This Minute proposes that the Lord Mayor write to the Minister for Planning and Public Spaces to:
 - i) acknowledge receipt of the letter and the NSW Government's commitment to increase the supply and diversity of homes across NSW;
 - ii) acknowledge that a strategy for increasing the mix of housing with a focus on medium density housing is an action in Council's endorsed Local Strategic Planning Statement and Local Housing Strategy;
 - iii) Council will agree to bring this action forward subject to the State Government:
 - a. committing to critical infrastructure projects that will unlock this capacity in particular a construction timetable detailing completion of Parramatta Light Rail Stage 2
 - b. providing funding for the studies and necessary community consultation required to progress this action.

Dear Clr Pandey, Pierre

I write to you regarding the need to allow for more housing in our low and medium density zones across New South Wales to help increase supply and diversity of homes we are delivering in our suburbs.

New South Wales is in a housing crisis. Through the National Housing Accord, councils and the NSW Government are committed to working together to look at every opportunity to address this crisis.

Our shared task is to approve and encourage the necessary investment and commencements for 377,000 homes by 2029.

The land use planning and assessment functions of councils and the Department will need to quickly adjust towards approaches that lead to more homes in well-located areas.

As a way to increase our housing numbers in NSW, the NSW Government has identified a number of limitations across the residential zones constraining our ability to deliver this diverse housing in our low and medium density areas. In Greater Sydney these include:

- Terraces, townhouses and 2 storey residential flat buildings (i.e. manor houses) are only permitted in the R2 low density residential zone in 2 of 35 Local Environmental Plans (LEPs) in Greater Sydney – just six per cent. This is despite 77 per cent of residential land being zoned R2. Even though the R3 medium density zones do allow terraces, they only make up 13% of residential land; and
- Residential flat buildings (RFBs) are only permitted in the R3 medium density zone in 47% of LEPs. Even though the R4 high density residential zones do allow RFBs, they only make up 3% of residential land.

The story is more mixed outside of our major cities but there are still opportunities available for the planning system to priorities low and mid-rise housing types in our main residential zones.

We are asking councils to review their local policy settings and approaches in the interests of housing supply. I ask you to identify existing well-located areas where terraces, small unit blocks or well-designed mid-rise apartments can be permitted.

Research consistently shows that there is unmet demand for additional small apartment and low-rise multi-dwelling housing options as well as purpose-built rental and affordable and social housing.

With this in mind, the Department will be realigning its resources to support councils in these initiatives and is developing a tool kit to help councils and state agencies deliver the outcomes we need. Councils shouldn't wait for this work to happen, rather I am asking you to begin work identifying locations and permitting more low and mid-rise homes immediately.

This urgency for all of us to play our part to approve and deliver housing in all parts of New South Wales brings me to my final point. The upcoming 2024 NSW local government elections are scheduled to be held on Saturday 14 September 2024. The caretaker period will begin 4 weeks before on 16 August 2024.

The NSW local government elections may have an impact on some policy and program timeframes and exhibition dates and may impact on planning assessment timeframe targets.

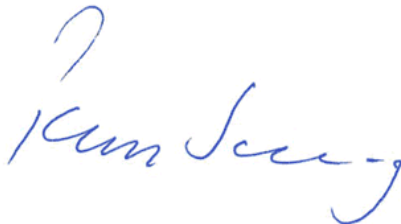

All planning assessments and other council responsibilities and operations should continue as normal until the start of the caretaker period. It is my express view that councils should continue to undertake their legal responsibilities under local government and planning legislation to make sure that we keep up the momentum on delivering the approvals for housing developments across New South Wales.

I would also request that this letter be tabled at your next council meeting so that councillors are clear about the State government's intentions on behalf of the people of NSW to deliver more low and mid-rise homes, while reminding them of their duty during election periods.

We all have a part to play in delivering on the National Housing Accord and a role in helping the next generation into home ownership or long-term rental. I urge you to look at your policy settings with the aim of expanding the number of homes in your LGA.

Should you have any questions regarding the housing reform work or to caretaker conventions for local government elections, please contact the Department at stakeholder.engagement@dpie.nsw.gov.au.

Yours sincerely

Paul Scully MP
Minister for Planning and Public Spaces

2. This year Diwali began on Sunday 12 November 2023. The word Diwali (or Deepavali) means “row of lights” in Sanskrit and people celebrate the festival by decorating their homes with lights and oil lamps, called “diyas”. Diwali commemorates different Hindu, Jain and Sikh legends about good deities triumphing over evil. During Diwali friends and families exchange gifts and sweets, enjoy delicious feasts and wear new clothes.
3. Diwali is internationally important and culturally significant, linking people around the world and uniting a diasporic community. A significant population of City of Parramatta residents come from India, celebrating Diwali is a way for them to stay connected to their roots. As India celebrates one of the world’s brightest and most festive holidays, Indians around the world are also gathering for a time of family, gifts and reflection.

owned digital screens. Paid digital marketing campaigns will promote Diwali and the events within the LGA. Staff support has been provided to community groups, especially in the areas of event applications, traffic management and marketing. Further, street banners celebrating Diwali have been installed at Marion St and Wigram Street, Harris Park. Marketing funds for Diwali were allocated by Council as part of the FY24 budget.
